

Private Practice Psychologist: Leading Private Clinic in Qatar

Overview

This is an exciting opportunity for a Clinical Psychologist (or Counselling Psychologist) to join a leading group of premium, private community clinics in Qatar.

The clinics are managed by a British professional, and the applicant will work alongside an outstanding team of experienced GPs, Paediatricians and Psychologists from the UK, Europe, North America and Australia. There is a well-established base of patients and the clinics aim to provide the absolute highest quality of care as the trusted healthcare provider for the entire family.

This role provides highly attractive tax-free compensation, but does not provide additional schooling benefits for those with children.

Job Description

- Management of a busy, varied caseload
- Issues with adapting to a new country, culture, workplace
- Anxiety, stress, depression
- Bereavement, crisis
- Relationship issues, couples
- Eating disorders
- CBT and other types of therapy
- Limited administrative burden, patient-focused role
- Child Psychology applications also welcome

Required Skills

- Psychology post-graduate qualification from a leading institution
- Registration as a healthcare professional
- Minimum five years' experience as an autonomous practitioner
- Experience of a variety of issues, and an adaptable approach
- Private sector experience
- Cultural sensitivity, with clients from all over the world
- Sympathetic practitioner
- Strong team ethic
- Willingness to relocate to Qatar
- Fluent English is a must, other languages would be beneficial but are not required

Opportunity Highlights

- Joining an outstanding, growing team
- Focus on quality of care
- A premium, private environment with quality facilities
- Working closely with patients of all backgrounds
- Moving to an exciting country, a travel hub with a great climate and lifestyle
- Limited administrative burden
- Highly attractive tax free compensation

Please send your CV to qatarhealthgroup@gmail.com to apply.